From Sister's Desk

Today's gospel tells us about the apostles' return from evangelizing. They were greeted by their loving leader, Jesus who invites them to come away with Him and rest. Because if His love for them Jesus takes care of their needs.

We all need to find time for work, rest and prayer. Jesus knows we need to live a balanced life. No matter what our vocation; married, religious, or single person. We all need to take time by ourselves to be recreated so that we will have something worthwhile to give to ourselves and others.

Many of us today are hungering for a prayer life. We need to find time in our lives where we can find God. This is not to be an escape form work and responsibilities, rather it is meant to empower us to return to our work and ministry with new enthusiasm and energy. When we learn to take time for daily prayer our whole life is kept in balance.

Jesus invites us to find the quiet place in our heart. He calls us and wants us to respond. The benefits are so great that everything in our lives is changed for the better.

Jesus is waiting to share more and more with us if only we enable Him. It is up to us to invite Him into our hearts.

16th Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want." (Psalm 23:1)

Advertisers in all modern media, print and electronic, use images and words, no matter how inappropriate or deceptive, to entice us to want everything. It is amazing how many of us are enticed to buy the newest fashion in clothes, no matter how atrocious; the most expensive car rather than a cheaper model of equal quality; useless toys and gadgets; and so much more, whether we need it or not. But we are privileged to be disciples of Jesus. He calls us to be good stewards who recognize the difference between what we want and what we need, and to share with others what we do not need. If we wait to give to God, by giving to others, until we have all we want, we will never give to God. We will always want something else. And we will never know the truth and joy of the words of Psalm 23: The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want. And that would be sad.
